PA NEW OBSERVES

Traffic count of the passengers on the city street cars is being made, Pa. News is informed.

Yellow arrows are being painted on the downtown streets, indicating which parking meter is allotted to a parking space. A lot of motorists in the past have placed their nickel in the wrong meter, it is reported.

Some of the tractors in operation on farms throughout the county give an idea of scenes in the dust-bowl years in the mid-west. Clouds of dust can be seen in the path of the tractor. In the dust bowl area a few years ago, driving a tractor across a field developed a real "cloud of dust," making a dense "smoke screen."

Japanese cherry trees in front of the residence of Fred L. Rintz on Edison avenue are now at their fullest bloom and are attracting a lot of attention. The trees are loaded down with blossoms and present a gorgeous sight, even at night.

Two residents of Crawford avenue were the first to contribute weapons to Chief of Police Willis G. McMullen for dispatch to Britons to defend their homeland from German invaders. One man delivered a revolver, and a woman had police collect a shotgun. The chief said today that revolvers, rifles and shotguns, despite their age or make, will be welcomed.

Sit down and drop another note to Senator McGlump and tell them that the creek is low the springs and brooks and lawns. GERMAN RAIDERS BOMB MERSEYSIDE

(International News Service)
LONDON, May 2.—Heavy R.
A. F. bombing attacks on German-occupied Dutch bases and on the French coast of Brest during the past 24 hours were announced by the British air ministry today.

An official communique stated:
"Yesterday Bristol-Blenheim
bombers made a particularly effective raid on the submarine base at Denhelder. The planes came in at low altitudes through intense anti-aircraft fire. Clouds of smoke and debris were thrown up by direct hits, which also were scored on a power station, barracks and other buildings."

Troops Machine-Gunned
"Troops were machine-gunned at Denhelder and the island of Texel.
Other aircraft attacked oil storage tanks at Vlaardingen and shipping off the Dutch coast. An oil tanker of 5,000 tons is believed to have been seriously damaged."
"Last night the docks at Brest were bombed. One of our planes is missing."

Causing a number of casualties,
German raiders dropped flares, fire bombs and high explosives on the Merseyside region and other sections of the British Isles last night and early today.

In the Merseyside area (Liverpool and vicinity), a hotel, a laundry and a house were hit.

There is an altitude at which water will not boil, according to scientists. However, no one has ever reached the point, which would be about 20 miles above sea level.

Leaving our borders without defenses doesn't prove anything. Our sea coasts are in the same fix.

SCENES DESCRIBED OF EVACUATION OF
BRITISH TROOPS

Chalks to the Peloponnesus. Ships sailed in close to the shoreline to snatch away the men—just in the nick of time.

As the evacuation progressed, the withdrawing British and imperial forces were protected by a bitterly and brilliantly fought rearguard action by the Anzacs and Greeks.

Harassed Mercilessly

They were harassed mercilessly by dive-bombing German Stukas, but British authorities say they made the German land legions pay dearly in men and material for every foot they advanced.

Even while German troops were hoisting the swastika over the Acropolis in Athens, Greek troops defended the British left flank as the evacuating forces moved from the mainland to the Peloponnesus.

I was evacuated with a large force of soldiers from a small Peloponnesus port after spending 24 hours under olive trees and in cornfields where we were bombed and machine-gunned continuously.

I left Athens at night with a conveyance of trucks which roared to Corinth, passing a ghastly procession of marching British infantry.

More and more trucks kept joining the conveyance until it formed a giant, snake-like line moving south.

Three Ships Sunk

When we reached the port we found three ships sunk in the harbor, an ammunition dump blazing and thousands of troops scattered through a wide area around the port, concealed in woods and ditches, ready to embark.

Embarkation was planned for the dead of night. For a day we took a terrific aerial pasting from the Luftwaffe. First we watched the Stukas bomb the harbor. Then we saw large German bombers attack the adjoining valley.

The British were unable to use anti-aircraft guns for fear of betraying their positions. But the bombers flew low and machine-gunned the woods and bushes. Bullets zipped through the trees but casualties were astonishingly small.

Embarkation Move

At dusk the troops were ordered to march to the port. They were instructed to keep marching in the event of aerial attack and told that anyone taking shelter would be left behind. This was necessary because the embarkation had been timed to the last minute and the schedule had to be kept.

With the evacuating troops were 100 Australian nurses from the British hospital in Athens. Their grey, scarlet-trimmed cloaks made them perfect targets for bombing and machine-gunning.

Once they had to take refuge in a grave yard and resume their journey to the port after nightfall. But once aboard an Australian destroyer they made light of their experiences and expressed sorrow at having to leave the wounded behind.

Maintaining perfect discipline, thousands of troops marched to the sea, where lighters systematically conveyed large groups of men to the vessels outside the harbor. At least 5,000 came aboard the same warship that I boarded.

Every man immediately was given a hot meal and drinks.

MURRAY OPPOSES
NEW TAX PROGRAM

The CIO called for bigger income taxes on the wealthy, higher corporation and excess profits taxes, higher estate and gift taxes and an undivided profits tax.

Ralph Hetzel, director of the CIO economic division, who was named to represent Murray and present his statement at the ways and means committee hearing, said the labor body "recognizes the need for heavier taxes to pay for the defense program."

"We are opposed to inflation," he said. "It is our position, however, that it is not necessary to levy heavy taxes on groups earning under $2,500 a year in order to prevent inflation. We don't feel that buying by this group, which is mainly confined to necessities, would cause inflation."

In this attitude the CIO clashed with 170 economists, many of them college professors, who urged stiff taxation of low income groups to help prevent runaway prices and the threat of inflation.

This group also urged collection of income taxes at the source, and raising and lowering of taxes within a year to coincide with rise and fall in the price level.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

UNCLE REMUS AND HIS CHILDREN

My fellow parents who would like to improve their letters to their children ought to read the letters of a very wonderful father to his young son and daughters. I refer to Joel Chandler Harris, known to most of us as Uncle Remus. Where is the child who does not enjoy Brer Rabbit?

You wonder what kind of letters Uncle Remus would write to his sons and daughters. Well, you can read them in the biography of Joel Chandler Harris by his daughter Julia Collier Harris; Houghton, Mifflin Co., 1938.

His sixteen-year-old son went alone from Atlanta to Quebec to visit his grandparents. During his visit Joel Chandler Harris wrote: "Try to be as respectful to your grandfather and grandmother as possible. Bear in mind that they have lived long out of the world, so to speak, and try not to treat them with that superciliousness so often affected by boys of your age. Remember that learning is merely an accomplishment and not a virtue, and if they seem to you to be ignorant, bear in mind that, in turn, you will seem to be ignorant to your descendants."

Understanding Letters
"Well, we are all well here. The place is just as you left it, except the hole made in the air by your absence, and it is a pretty large one, too. I am waiting for those long letters."

From a later letter: "Another thing—when I make a remark or suggestion, don't take it too seriously. You are old enough to have discovered, or, at least, to have suspected, that, except in the matter of morals, it is impossible to map out a young man's career by means of advice. All I can do is to give you some of the results of my experience. I am much more interested in seeing you grow up strong-bodied and clean-minded than I am in your career. A clean-minded man will be everything that he should be. I should like to see you with a will strong enough to resist all forms of temptation. Your career will then take care of itself."

Still later: "It is very gratifying to me to know that you have made an impression on people. Lord! I don't disappoint 'em, and don't disappoint your mammy and daddy. (More lecturing.)"

Space does not permit me to quote the funny things he writes his daughters, and his replies to his sons' request for advice in his love affairs. There was no wall between Uncle Remus and his children. The letters by Joel Chandler Harris to his sons and daughters should prove excellent material for study groups of parents of adolescent children. Good material for a discussion in a men's Bible class; good material for a sermon.

Solving Parent Problems
Q. Is it well to pay a child to help at regular chores about the house?
A. As a rule, it is not.

Q. What do you consider the most unkind word a parent or teacher can use to a child?
A. "Dumbell," or similar words. And how wrong some parents who are Sunday school teachers, missionaries or preachers are, in accordance with this standard!

The World and the Mud Puddles

A LARGE LIBRARY.

Archibald MacLeish recently published his first report as librarian of Congress. (555 pages), it disclosed that the Library of Congress has reached its greatest size—9,495,849 items, including an unestimated mass of manuscripts.

MacLeish, who works in neat clothes, behind a neat desk, has streamlined his staff, pyramiding departments so that only five men now report directly to him instead of fifty-odd. In general, he said, he was trying to make it "a people's library of references."

The library fills that function chiefly through Congressmen. Directed by 45-year-old Ernest S. Griffith, seventy researchers in its legislative reference service answer any question a Senator or Representative asks—barring only genealogy and prize-contest puzzles. It's indicative of the complexity of modern government that this year the service expects to handle a record of twelve thousand queries from Congressmen—more than ten times the rate for twenty years ago.

In his questions, the reference service man can usually tell what a Congressman is going to make a speech about next. One recent asked for a list of democratic nations; another, for the occasion when Hitler called the Democracies "cackling geese." Griffith lately has had to set up a special section for questions on defense.

But not all queries are so momentous. One Congressman asked the staff to dig up an appropriate poem to congratulate a constituent on the birth of twins. Unable to find one, the resourceful Mrs. Margaret L. B. Blachly, a researcher sat down and wrote a jingle.

No man is ever well dressed when he has to wear the clothes his wife makes him wear.

"I am so sorry that I can't have this dance with you, but really I promised somebody else. I'll be glad, however, to introduce you to a very charming young lady."

HINTS AND DINTS

Sun sets tonight 6:55. Sun rises tomorrow 4:59.

Over in Italy, Mr. Mussolini just orders those who do not follow his ideas killed without any ceremony. It is quite effective, but not so good with those who get gay.

Another great trouble in this country, in fact about the worst one, is that a lot of people want a lot of things they do not want to work for.

A South Side chap, henpecked, got out of bed the other evening to get a drink of water. He had just drawn a breaker from the tap in the kitchen when something grabbed his toe. Just then his wife called from the bedroom. "Mike," she said, "will you see if there is anything in that mousetrap I set in the kitchen? I just heard something snap."

Convivial guests are the ones who stand and hold an empty glass until they see a morocco-bound book to park it on.

The man from Missouri tossed this old story at us:

A hillbilly was visiting a Nebraska farmer. The farmer said: "Dog gone it, Bill. I sure have had the toughest luck. A week ago I had a bunch of prime hogs ready for market, and they got cholera and died. It's the craziest ailment ever."

"You are all wrong there," retorted the mountaineer. "Down where I come from it's the mud balls on the pigs' tails are so bad that it pulls their eyelids back so they can't wink, and they die from lack of sleep."

From the way things look now in this world something terrible will have to happen to bring people back to common sense.

Sex is cursed a lot but if it were abolished, the world wouldn't last long, and it wouldn't be very interesting while it lasted.

TOO LITERAL
Pete: My wife has lost her sense of humor.
Tubby: How's that?
Pete: The other day I heard a good riddle and decided to catch her on it. But when I asked her: Why are men like mules? she merely answered: "Don't judge all men by yourself, dear."

A large number of people will do most anything to avoid thinking. Some of them will even go to the extreme resort of working.

About the worst abused thing is freedom.

There is a lot of complaint about the jails in this country. It comes mostly from those most interested—those in them.

QUICK THINKING
She: Sometimes you seem so manly and other times absurdly effeminate. Why is it?
He: Heredity. You see, half my ancestors were men and the other half women.

No man is ever well dressed when he has to wear the clothes his wife makes him wear.

Question: A business woman earning a moderate salary invites some friends, also business women to her apartment for an evening. Inasmuch as the hostess' office hours are such that she cannot prepare a dinner for the party she is expected to pay the entire bill, if she accompanies them to a restaurant for dinner?—Mildred.

Answer: Indeed, no, especially in this day of the "Dutch Treat." You are never responsible for any one else's check unless you specifically invite that person to a meal. And when you invite your friends in for an evening, they should not assume that your invitation includes a dinner. I am quite sure that these girls would not let you take their checks, knowing your position. But to avoid any misunderstanding, you should invite your friends to arrive about 8 o'clock and prepare in advance a few sandwiches and cakes as a light supper.

Question: Should I wear a white or a black waistcoat with my tuxedo?—George.

Answer: You may, correctly, wear any of the following waistcoats with your dinner jacket (tuxedo): white washable material, cloth like the jacket or black silk like the facing of the jacket. With a swallow tail coat, however, a man must always wear a white waistcoat.

Friend: I want to get a better look at that girl I dreamed about last night.

The armor worn by the fifteenth century knights weighed nine pounds less than the equipment worn by the doughboys in the World War.

QUITE HARMLESS
Little Jane, extremely pleased over the arrival in her house of a baby brother, asked her teacher to come and see him.

"Thank you," said the teacher, "but I think I shall wait until your mother is better."

After a moment's hesitation, little Jane piped up and said, "Oh, you needn't be afraid. It's not catching."

NEEDED IT
Neighbors: I heard your kid bawling last night.
Father: Yes, and after four bawls he got his base warmed, too.

There are people who think it costs too much money to raise money for a good cause and that it also costs too much money to spend it.

The Pennsylvania legislature has not adjourned yet, but there is already talk of an extra session in the fall. Extra pay.

When a North Hill man complained that his wife was untidy, nagging and did not understand him, his friend asked: "When did you meet the other woman?"

Answer: Yes. One of the wisest proverbs ever written is that which says: "Tell thy secret to thy slave and he becomes thy master." This urge to tell someone experiences that should be kept secret is the greatest of the feminine weaknesses.

Those who feel such a spell coming on should flee from it as from a pestilence. Many a lovely girl in the throes of a love affair does some foolish thing that hundreds of other girls around her are doing and forgetting. She becomes excited and must confide in someone—perhaps a servant in the house or a "hum who vows eternal secrecy, but who almost invariably leaks. Land And Sea Forces Not Obsolete
Air Warfare Still Not All Powerful
Aid Forces Aid Both Army And Navy

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Columnist

WASHINGTON, May 2—Aviation has supplemented surface fighting forces, ashore and afloat, but they're not obsolete on account of it and they're in no danger of becoming so either—emphatically not.

My informant was an admiral I'm acquainted with. His family and mine know one another very well. The other evening his daughter dropped in to see my daughter and he came with her. So he and I had a little chat—purely a social one.

If I'd called on him in a journalistic capacity he'd have been as uncommunicative as an oyster. I'm sure he would. In fact, that I'd visit him soon for an interview. At the word "interview" he shied instantly like a scared horse.

"Oh, in that case," he said, "I'd have to turn you over to our press section. Admiral Hepburn runs it." And I'm quite aware that the press section's function is the suppression of news. However, what I'd been having with my admiral wasn't an "interview" but a mere personal conversation, which was quite all right.

Most big countries have a war department, a navy department and an aviation department. We're different. We have war and navy departments, each with an aviation adjunct, but no independent aviation set-up.

Greater Efficiency

"You see," explained my admiral, "when I asked him about it, 'the Army needs aviators for its particular requirements and the navy needs them for its particular purposes and these respective purposes are quite unlike one another. Aviation shouldn't be regarded as a separate service. It's an army and it's likewise a navy arm, and the two arms ought to be classified accordingly. They're much more efficient that way.'"

Enthusiastic aviators have insisted for a number of years that their service, in reality, is pretty much the whole thing or is fast becoming so, anyway. Indeed, the late General William Mitchell maintained that armies and navies no longer are worth bothering with—that fliers have got them both knocked into a cocked hat.

But soldiers and sailors have contended right along, as my admiral said a few days ago, that aviation's just a couple of arms—indispensable, but necessarily motivated by the older armed forces.

As a militarily uneducated layman, I've wondered repeatedly: "Are our aviators overly enthusiastic? Or are our surface fighters, on land (Continued On Page Five)

What Noted People Say

(International News Service)

BOSTON—Senator Burton K. Wheeler, Montana Democrat, contends that the great body of American people is opposed to U. S. participation in the European war.

"The sentiment of the President's ambassadors and his cabinet is that our country should go to war, but with 35 per cent of the people opposed to it, there would be chaos."

WASHINGTON—President Roosevelt urges Americans to help finance the fight against aggressors.

"We must fight this threat wherever it appears; and it can be found at the threshold of every home in America."

NEW YORK—Vice President Henry A. Wallace takes the position that time is running short.

"Much as we hate the choice, the issue of slavery or war may be forced upon us as it has been forced on others."

And if the road was easy, and if the burden light, There'd be no need for courage, no cause to set things right.
The desert sands are sunny, where seldom falls the rain,
But beauty worth the having is grown by toil and pain.

No way to pride through pleasure! No gate to strength through ease!

Strict is the code of honor; life gives no cheap degrees.
Knowledge is gained by study, patience and strength of will,
And hours of tedious practice. All these are paid for skill.

Would you be more than clever and more than common stuff?
You can be if your spirit is only strong enough.

You must supply the patience, the will to work and wait.
For these alone, young fellow, can make you truly great.

Unwholesome Spectacle

WASHINGTON, May 2.

PERHAPS it is inevitable that the immensity of the defense organization should involve a slackening in speed, a deterioration in personnel and a weakening as to character of the normal governmental agencies. But what has happened to some of these amounts almost to complete degeneration.

SOME of them seem almost literally either to be falling to pieces or just marking time. The one thing they have not stopped, however, is spending money. All of them cost just as much as ever, though they do a lot less. Of course, the President is far too heavily pressed by the great problems arising from the war to devote any attention to the administrative details of these New Deal boards and commissions which once were so much in the news and the members of which seemed so important.

THE truth is that, with one or two notable exceptions, such as the Federal Housing Administration, under Mr. Stuart MacDonaid, none of these creations of the Roosevelt Administration ever has been operated with any particular degree of competency. Mr. Roosevelt himself has asserted that the chief indictment to be made of the New Deal is lack of administrative efficiency. And those "advanced thinkers" responsible for so many of the early Roosevelt experiments always has been to consider that the enactment of the creating legislation was nine-tenths of the job, and the actual operation of the agencies thus set up relatively unimportant.

CERTAINLY it is true that in most cases these new boards and commissions with which the Government is now so thickly cluttered, have been conducted with a maximum of expense and a minimum of efficiency. If that was true before we began, with such vast energy and cost to prepare for war, it is doubly true now. Probably the outstanding example of this is the Securities and Exchange Commission. This is one of the most important of the governmental commissions. It has great power both for good and evil. In the past it has been productive of both, but it is safe to say that in the whole of its six years' career it was never at so low an ebb as now.

IT is not only as one careful writer stated the other day, that its 1,600 employees are just "eating their heads off" in idleness but the Commissioners themselves are in a pretty soggy state. The new chairman is understood to be angling for a Federal judgeship, and the expectation is that he will remain on the Commission only a few months. Another member, Mr. Leon Henderson, while still drawing the salary, certainly has had no time to devote to the SEC for many months. He was on the original Defense Board set up by Mr. Roosevelt and is now assigned to the very vital and complicated job of price control.

A THIRD member is described as "tired," a fourth, as entirely cynical, about the whole business of regulation. And there is one vacancy which Mr. Roosevelt shows no indication of filling soon. It is easy to understand that he just hasn't time to think about it. At any rate, his selection of a chairman to succeed Mr. Jerome Frank showed he was not thinking very hard about increasing confidence in the capacity of the Commission or broadening its outlook. Actually, the Commission's chief activity at the moment is centered in certain junior employees who hope one way or another to land on the Commission. To this end, they are playing up to members of the White House "inner circle" supposed to have influence with the President. In order to commend themselves for appointment they seem to be trying to make records in harassing and bedeviling the unfortunate firms with which they come into official contact.

1796—John Gorham Palfrey, historian, at Boston. He was a clergyman, professor in the Harvard Divinity school, representative in the Congress, and editor of the North American Review. As a writer he is best known by his "History of New England to the Revolutionary War."

1865—William Clyde Fitch, playwright, at Elmira, N. Y. His best known play, "Beau Brummel," was produced by Richard Mansfield in 1890. He was a prolific writer and produced 36 original plays and 24 adaptations.

Commission than ever before and a greater tendency to "ride" anyone directly or indirectly connected with Wall Street. The result of all this is that among those over whom the Commission has jurisdiction there is a deepened feeling of injustice and resentment. The hopes of those who thought the President might seize the opportunity presented by the Commission vacancies to put on someone without strong punitive desires, who could inspire some degree of confidence in the financial world, seem completely unbased.

WHAT has happened in the SEC does not make it unique in Washington. Its deterioration is a little more obvious than most, but there are few agencies here in which there has not been a general letdown. Perhaps this is natural to some extent, but certainly not to the extent it has gone. It is fair to say that no one can remember a time when there was more confusion and less efficiency in Government than there is today. Take it all in all and it is a most unwholesome spectacle.

and sea, disposed to belittle aviation simply because, as terrestrial and oceanic experts, they're slow to recognize that their respective professions are outmoded by the birds overhead?

Well, as previously remarked, my admiral answered these questions. "I'll say this," he added. "I think maybe the airplane is about due to put the submarine out of business. You'll remember what Kipling called the sub—the one-eyed death. One-eye—the periscope. And one eye isn't a full complement. It's a bad handicap to have only one lamp. But a flyer's got eyes in every side of his head."

I was curious to learn if my admiral believes a force of any formidable consequence can be landed by air upon enemy soil and actually occupy it.

"Perhaps," he agreed, "if it's a very short flight, as from Denmark to Norway or from Sicily to North Africa. A plane, loaded with men to its capacity, and towing a number of equally-loaded gliders, can cover such distances pretty fast, land the aggregation and fly back for more, to the tune of several trips a day."

"What's the remedy? I inquired. "Fighting flyers, said the admiral, "to blast the flying transports. "Degaussing"

Then he told me about "degaussing" men-o-war. "The Germans have a trick of planting magnetic mines at the bottom of a maritime channel. The metal in the hull of a ship passing over such a mine, magnetically attracts it, the mine rises, hits the ship's keel, bursts upon contact and blows the gizzard out of that ship. But there's a counter-trick, consisting in demagnetizing the ship, so that the mine won't rise. It is a sort of insulation, in effect. They call it "degaussing" because the process was invented by Johann Karl Frederick Gauss. It'll be a good joke on Herr Hitler to have his magnetic mines nullified through the ingenuity of a German with a name like that. I'm giving away no military secret by mentioning the stunt, though, for Johann Karl hit on it away back in the 18th century. In fact, I don't think I've leaked any confidential information at all.

BITS OF NEWS IN WARD AREA

The Maple street tennis court, above West Clayton street, is being improved. The court will be used by members of the Mahoningtown Tennis club this season.

The lawn at the Pennsylvania Power Company sub-station is quite attractive this year. Workmen weeded the big lawn a few days ago and planted some additional grass seed.

Very little work is being done to the athletic field at the corner of Mahoning avenue and Cedar street this year. Evidently the athletic clubs are waiting until after the scheduled circus has left the ground before devoting much time and effort to putting it in shape.

STATE PONDERS TAX REDUCTION

Democratic Leaders Awaiting Final Returns On April
15 Payments

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, May 2—A decision will probably be reached within the next week on whether a reduction in taxes can be voted at the present session of the legislature, it was disclosed today.

The decision is entirely dependent upon the surplus revenue obtained from present taxes, mainly from the corporate net income tax, most important of the eight emergency levies re-enacted in 1939.

House Majority Leader Leo A. Achterman indicated that if taxes are to be reduced at this session, the income from present levies must be considerably in excess of budgetary estimates presented by Gov. Arthur H. James.

Democratic leaders are now awaiting the final returns on the second half of this year's corporate net income taxes, payable April 15. They are expected to be in within a week.

Draft Objector Placed In Jail

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, May 2—An Erie man who refused to allow himself to be inducted into Uncle Sam's draft army, declaring he would rather go to jail, today found himself just there—in jail!

Thomas Edmond Patsky, 36, Russian-speaking draftsman, admitted, according to police, he had been drinking prior to his arrest, but insisted "I'm thinking clearly now," as army officials spent a fruitless hour attempting to persuade him to be fingerprinted and to take the army oath of allegiance.

Dr. Dafoe's Column On The Quintuplets And The Care Of Your Children

(Copyright, 1941, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

TOO MUCH EMPHASIS CAN BE PLACED ON MOTHER'S RESPONSIBILITY

In these modern days one can hardly get away from reading articles on and hearing radio talks about the solemn and sacred responsibilities of mothers. In fact, so much has been said to the effect that motherhood is the most difficult task in the world that I'm afraid it is beginning to effect parent's attitude toward their children in an undesirable way.

In most of the expressions about motherhood to which I refer, there is too much preaching and criticism it seems to me. The best advice to mothers is "always enjoy your children," and this doesn't require much amplification. The "solemn duties of mothers" will be fulfilled if this idea is adhered to, and all concerned will be much happier if most of the other preachments on the subject are ignored.

In this world—or perhaps I had better stick to my continent, there is a high percentage of children who do suffer from neglect, but there is also a great number who suffer from over-attention and indulgence. Too many mothers, it has been my observation, are so wrapped up in what they conceive to be the solemn duties of motherhood that they literally become fanatics on their subject. As such they are constant fault-finders, golds and worriers. They are constantly upset over the child's health, or manners, or school-work. Every minor ill, every mishap, demoralizes them. Such mothers are so concerned over their children that they never enjoy them. And naturally, the children of such mothers hardly enjoy their parents or their childhood.

From the day of its birth, a baby needs most of all to be enjoyed. Nothing is as beneficial to a child as the feeling that he is wanted and is a source of happiness to his parents, capable of arousing such a feeling as that expressed by Du Bartas:

My lovely living Boy,
My hope, my hap, my love, my life,
my joy.

But enjoying your child doesn't mean that even the smallest babies "shouldn't" have discipline and a habit-forming routine. If these are started early and correctly, they'll be no hardship on the child or unpleasant task to you. Actually, they will add to your enjoyment of the child.

If you'll stop and think, instead of acting on impulses, common sense will prevent you from either indulging or neglecting your child's needs, and make it easy for you to enjoy him.

Good Propaganda
Is Good Influence

Penn State Professor Says
Hearers Of Propagandist
Must Spread Ideas

(International News Service)

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., May 2.—In spite of its unsavory reputation, propaganda is often a good influence, and America needs more of the right kind, according to Dr. Harold F. Graves, professor of English composition at the Pennsylvania State College.

"Propaganda does not always represent falsehood, trickery, and bad causes," declared Dr. Graves. "Much of it is necessary to promote progress."

Everyone who speaks persuasively to any group about a controversial subject of local, national, or international importance is a propagandist, he pointed out. Unless his hearers spread such ideas, however, no speaker can have very much influence.

For that matter, we are all dying of an incurable affliction. It is called wearing out.

Mother, Son, And
Unborn Child
Taken By Death

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, May 2.—A mother, her son, and an unborn child who died within two days of each other will be buried in the same grave after requiem high mass Monday at St. Henry's church.

The son, Norman Thieleman, nine, died early Wednesday morning from a heart condition. The shock of his death was believed to have brought on the pneumonia which sent his mother, Mrs. Tillie Hoffman Thieleman, 31, to a hospital, where she died early today. Mrs. Thieleman was an expectant mother and her child preceded her in death by some hours, physicians said.

The father, Carl, is on relief.

Aged Woman Must Serve Jail Term

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Pa., May 2.—A 73-year-old woman today was sentenced to not less than six months and not more than two years in jail on charges of perjury.

Alice Whiteside, of Washington, Pa., was sentenced by Judge Carl E. Gibson on her plea of guilty.

Last February 13 she appeared as a witness at the trial of Susan Perry, who had been charged with selling liquor. Previous to the trial she had made out an affidavit claiming she had bought liquor from Susan Perry, but at the trial she denied she had ever done so, and the court ordered an information made out against the aged woman.

News Briefs From City Hall

City fathers, also City Engineer Glenn R. Throop are quaking in their brogans. They are fearful lest the WPA does not provide men for city-WPA projects. The city rulers want to get the sidewalk and street sign projects under way. Paving of Chestnut street has started and the city would like to begin excavation for paving in North Jefferson street. Because of the reported difficulty getting men assigned to projects it is probable paving will start only on one street at a time.

William M. Bender today was granted a permit by the bureau of building, city hall, to build a garage at an estimated cost of $250.00, at 21 East Grant street.

Elmer & Walsh, service station operators, Grant street, have been given the city's sanction to lay a pipe line to carry gasoline, when required, from tank cars on the Erie railroad through an alley to their station.

TWO SMALL FIRES

Firemen were called into action twice last evening for small fires.

At 6:30 o'clock they were called to a dump at Lyndal street and Pennsylvania avenue, where rubbish was afire.

Later in the evening, Assistant Chief Harper was called to the home of W. B. Starr, at 17½ East North street, where fire of undetermined origin damaged the floor of a porch on the third floor. Damage of around $10 was caused.

SUMMER KITCHEN TIP

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, May 2.—Keeping cool while doing the summer cooking is a real problem admits the U. S. Bureau of Agricultural Chemistry and Engineering which says the main thing is to have the kitchen in the corner of the house, preferably on the shady side, with enough windows and doors for good cross ventilation.

Better to reform late than never. But it isn't very generous to "give your life to the Lord" after you've worn it out.

Because it is considered undignified, bootblacks are not permitted to ply their trade in Rome.

Babson Analyzes Opinions Of People In United States

By ROGER W. BABSON
Copyright—1941—Publishers Financial Bureau, Inc.

BABSON PARK, Mass., May 2—You can't judge the nation by statistics only. Feelings are as potent as figures. Hence, I spend a great deal of time traveling throughout the country, talking with people in all walks of life. I travel in day coaches as well as in Pullmans and airplanes. I talk with small town officials and bankers as well as those of large cities. Here is what I now learn from them:

Defense And Cost Of Living

Without question, aside from the effects of certain strikes in manufacturing centers, the program of production for defense purposes is reaching present capacity limits. The construction of new production facilities, however, will enable the volume of business to expand enormously in months to come. Business activity as a whole already exceeds that of 1929 by some 8% and the rise is by no means reaching a limit. Mayors and other municipal officials in many cities outside the normal defense areas are renewing their efforts to attract labor-supplying industries in an attempt to reduce relief loads. This is a commendable effort and should receive encouragement and help from Washington.

The greatly increased business activity in most sections of the country has raised commercial loans 25%, carloadings 30%, and pushed up weekly payrolls. In spite of this, and some jacking up of rents, food, and clothing prices, the cost of living is up a bare 2% over last year. My readers need not yet be concerned over rising prices. The Administration is watching the picture closely and will do everything possible to keep living costs down. Labor leaders as yet cannot give "increased living costs" as an honest excuse for wage raises.

Individual Spending
The winter resort business in Florida was off some 15% this year, while California suffered as a result of consistent rains. Many men accustomed to a month or two off during the winter were this year chained to their desks in defense work. The Southwest resort areas—notably in Arizona—had the best winter for many years. The same rains which hurt California brought out the desert flowers, tempered the climate, and kept down the dust. What is "one man's poison is another man's meat!" The resort areas of the Northwest, Colorado, New England, and New York may benefit greatly from an active tourist season this coming summer. This should also be true of Canadian resorts.

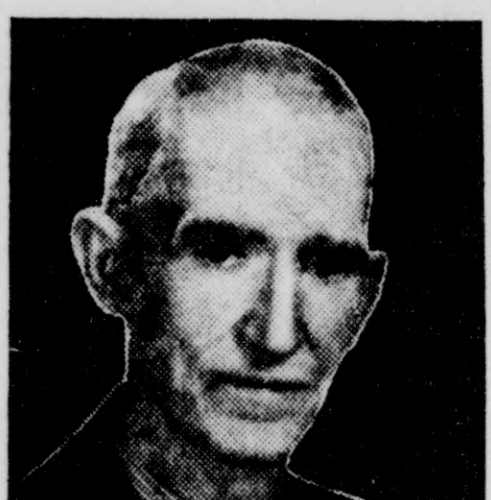

Thus far, people are spending freely. This is especially true of workers. Many have a steady job for the first time in years. The rich are spending because they believe their wealth may be confiscated; while the poorer always spend all they got. We of the middle class think we need so many necessities, plus the luxuries of a new car, radio, etc., that we are putting out cash faster than we are taking it in. This is witnessed by mounting installment sales. Little thought is being given by anyone, anywhere, to the coming "rainy day."

General Impressions
The unemployment situation has markedly improved throughout the Midwest, but relief loads there are still relatively high. This is in contrast to most other sections of the country. Emotionally, the population of our East and West coasts seems geared to a notch or two higher than that of the great middle agricultural areas. Farmers are still more concerned about the weather, crop possibilities, and farm aid than they are about Aid to Britain or World War II. Pig-headedness and poor marketing conditions, with which I sympathize, still prevent them from making a decent living. Bankers and businessmen feel much the same the country over. They are heartily in favor of our preparedness program! Though they know that it will penalize their business, bankers are in favor of raising the excess reserve requirements of the Federal Reserve Banks. They fear inflation more than anything else. This is in spite of the fact that they contract to only take in and pay out "dollars," regardless of what the dollar is worth.

GORDON CAMPBELL PRAISES RETONGA

Was Weak, Nervous And Had To Take Harsh Laxatives Regularly, States Steel Co. Employee. Eats, Sleeps And Feels Fine Now.

Throughout Pennsylvania, suffering men and women report finding grand relief through Retonga. One of the latest is Mr. G. C. Campbell, Chartiers Ave., McKees Rocks, a well known steel worker for forty years, and a valued employee of the Lockhart Steel Co.

"No medicine ever brought me half as much relief as Retonga, for sluggishness, weakness, constipation, and loss of energy and strength," declared Mr. Campbell. "Harsh purgatives I was forced to take would tear through me, causing pain and griping that I could hardly stand. My head would ache, I often felt dizzy and weak, and I was so nervous I didn't get near as much sleep as I needed. I had so much gas in my stomach at times I felt as bloated and tight as a drum. Retonga promptly relieved the gas and bloating, my bowel action is gentle and prompt, and I feel lots stronger. My nerves are quiet, and sleep comes easily, and mornings I eat a big breakfast without fear of distress. I feel better than I have in many a day. I take my hat off to Retonga for it did more for me than all the medicines I tried put together."

Retonga is compounded from the extracts of roots, herbs and barks, combined with Thiamin (Vitamin B-1), for strength and digestion. Thousands praise it. Retonga may be obtained at Pay Less Cut Rate.

joying high prices and owners are optimistic over the outlook. In fact, most Westerners and many Easterners seem more anxious to own a ranch than to own securities. Crop conditions are generally excellent. Mines are operating at capacity. The motion picture industry, while bemoaning the loss of European markets, is enjoying gains in audience receipts and rentals.

Conclusion
The picture I see from my own studies and trips and from the reports of my associates is one of very general prosperity. True, many cases of hardship remain with us and many individuals are not alive to changing economic and social conditions. My mail daily contains letters from men who still are very bitter toward Washington and the Stock Exchange crowd. However, in this great land, opportunities still exist. One has only to recognize the turn of the tide and to swim with it.

HUGHES EXPLAINS STATE POSITION

Secretary Of Highways Says Position On "Boxcar Bill" Misrepresented

By JOHN PAGET
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, May 2.—Secretary of Highways 1 Lamont Hughes today contended his letter to two senators explaining the department's position on the "Boxcar Bill" was misrepresented by the Pennsylvania Motor Truck Association.

In a formal statement, the trucker's association asserted that Hughes said he would not oppose legislation boosting the gross weight of trucks from 39,000 to 50,000 pounds in Pennsylvania in line with a 10-state agreement for truck uniformity.

The association sidestepped Hughes' statement that the department was "reluctant to agree to further increases."

The states represented in the conference were Pennsylvania, Maine, Vermont, New Hampshire, Connecticut, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, New York, New Jersey and Delaware.

Hughes, however, explained that he had agreed to the proposal as it affected other states because he did not desire to become a dissenting member of the conference.

He pointed out that he had told the senate highways committee he must insist that the load of any single truck axle must remain at 18,000 pounds in Pennsylvania.

In a letter to Sen. John G. Snowden, Lycoming Republican and committee chairman, and to Sen. Franklin Spencer Edmonds, Montgomery Republican, Hughes stated that "Pennsylvania is in a position very different from that of our neighboring states in that we have on our highway system 40,522 miles, of which some 25,000 miles have been improved by light type construction and over which we now find a good deal of heavy trucking."

He added that New Jersey's highways totaled only 1721 miles and were "principally heavy duty construction." New York has 14,011 miles—all on the main road system and Maryland has 4279 miles, principally on their main truck system.

"I believe you can readily appreciate," Hughes letter stated, "why the Department of Highways is reluctant to agree to any further increase in the truck weights allowable under the laws of this commonwealth."

Hughes, however, explained that he had agreed to the proposal as it affected other states because he did not desire to become a dissenting member of the conference.

He pointed out that he had told the senate highways committee he must insist that the load of any single truck axle must remain at 18,000 pounds in Pennsylvania.

In a letter to Sen. John G. Snowden, Lycoming Republican and committee chairman, and to Sen. Franklin Spencer Edmonds, Montgomery Republican, Hughes stated that "Pennsylvania is in a position very different from that of our neighboring states in that we have on our highway system 40,522 miles, of which some 25,000 miles have been improved by light type construction and over which we now find a good deal of heavy trucking."

He added that New Jersey's highways totaled only 1721 miles and were "principally heavy duty construction." New York has 14,011 miles—all on the main road system and Maryland has 4279 miles, principally on their main truck system.

"I believe you can readily appreciate," Hughes letter stated, "why the Department of Highways is reluctant to agree to any further increase in the truck weights allowable under the laws of this commonwealth."

Governor Likely To Sign Measure

Representative George T. Wein-gartner today gave to City Treasurer C. C. McKibben, a copy of a proposed law, which it is anticipated, will be signed by Governor Arthur James concerning tax abatement.

The bill says that in vent a current or 1941 tax is paid the taxpayer can pay all delinquent taxes beginning in 1940 and prior years at face in 20 percent payments.

This payment must be made on or before November 1, 1941, according to the measure.

Shortage Of Farm Labor Forecasted

Farm Help Is At Lowest Level Since 1923 In Pennsylvania Survey Shows

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, May 2.—A shortage of farm labor looms on Pennsylvania's agricultural horizon according to reports which indicate farm help at the lowest level since 1923.

Reports issued by the state department of agriculture in conjunction with the federal government stated current labor supplies—as of April 1—were 69 per cent. of normal while one year ago the figure was 90 per cent. The 1941 labor demand was 64 per cent., the report added, while a year ago it was 84 per cent.

Farm wages, however, have increased sharply. The monthly wage with board as of April 1 was fixed at $29.50 as compared with $26.75 a year ago.

PICKETS POLICE STATION
 FITCHBURG, Mass., April 3.—An unidentified man wanted to be arrested recently. He "confessed" he set fire to a house 24 years ago. Police didn't believe him. Angry, he decided to stand on his "constitutional rights." He picketed police headquarters. His reason—it was warmer at Bridgewater state farm than at his camp.

Congress Will Break Records

Spending Of World War Days To Be Exceeded By Billions

IGNORE PLEAS FOR REDUCTIONS

By GRIFFING BANCROFT
International News Service Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, May 2.—The nation's lawmakers went merrily on their way today toward making this session a $30,000,000,000 congress—which will be just $3,000,000,000 greater than the previous record appropriations voted by the world war congress in 1918.

Pleas for reductions in non-defense expenditures were ignored as the house resumed consideration of an interior department supply bill totaling $17,019,078—$21,000,000 above last year's figure.

Passage of this bill is expected without much difficulty, and this will bring appropriations approved by the house so far this session to more than $21,000,000,000—with such big items as relief, labor and federal security and the war department bills yet to come. Total appropriations last session were only $19,000,000,000.

Ignore Pleas To Save.
Congressmen refused to take too seriously a plea by Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau that non-defense spending be sliced down by $1,000,000,000. Slyly they pointed out that Morgenthau's own bill—the one to supply funds for the treasury and the post office—came to congress totalling $1,155,373,000, more than $100,000,000 greater than the year before.

The house passed some $9,000,000 of the measure which is now awaiting senate action.

The best score on either big annual supply bill is much the same. The one for the independent offices already has become law—the tune of $1,434,626,638, almost $300,000,000 more than the year before.

The agricultural bill passed the house at $891,000,000, but the senate promptly added $950,000,000 which, if approved, will bring that measure to some $300,000,000 above last year's figure.

Seven Special Bills.
Of the expenditures voted by the house so far this session, $13,672,753,469 was contained in seven special bills including the $7,000,000,000 lease-lend measure, funds for new cargo ships, and other defense matters. The rest is in the regular supply bills, which make funds available to carry on government work during the fiscal year starting next June 30.

Indicative of the reluctance to cut spending was the statement today of Rep. Rich (R) Pa., an economy leader and ranking minority member of the committee which handled the interior department bill, who declared he will not oppose items in the measure on the floor.

"This house and this administration is not going to cut down expenditures because they don't have enough business ability. You'll find, before you're through, that the administration will spend as much for its regular functions as it did last year."

Occupying the period from July 7 to 11, inclusive, the conference will include a series of lectures, round tables and panel discussions in which regular faculty members, visiting teachers and authorities outside the academic world will participate.

Berwick Plant Has Orders For 3,000 Tanks For Government

(International News Service)

BERWICK, Pa., May 2.—Work on $70,000,000 worth tanks—one of the largest orders of its kind—is being speeded at the Berwick plant of the American Car and Foundry Company.

More than 3,000 tanks ordered by the government will be assembled within the next few months and rapidly turned over to the nation's expanding armed forces.

Initial tests of the tanks, witnessed by company and army officials, proved satisfactory. A number of the machines will be shipped to soldiers training camps.

DAILY DOZEN

(From the Medical Society of the State of Pennsylvania)

"Mama, what are flies good for?" There's a poser for any mother. The fly is a nuisance, a pest, a germ carrier, a danger.

Added to that, the fly has no manners, social or otherwise. Drags his messy feet from the garbage to the dining table. He lights on baby's face or hands and walks all over it. He wades in the food, spreading germs.

Houses should be screened, garbage should be covered. Flies should be killed in continuous all-out warfare. They contribute nothing to mankind's happiness. They bring into the home filth and diseases. Swat the fly.

Paper money was first issued in the United States in 1690. It was adopted as a matter of necessity, not from choice, by Massachusetts Bay Colony, and was gradually issued by other colonies until it was in general use by all.

College Hardens Youths For Army

Special "Physical Fitness" Course In Progress At Penn State College

(International News Service)

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., May 2.—A special "physical fitness" course designed to harden prospective student and faculty draftees for the early rigors of army life is in progress at the Pennsylvania State College.

Entirely new in concept, the course was begun in the college's recreation hall three hours a week for eight weeks. Any person in the college community who expects to be called soon to military service may enroll in the course.

Physical education instructors headed by Glenn Thiel, coach of varsity lacrosse, directs group calisthenics and games, while Lieut. Charles Prosser, of the R. O. T. C. faculty, lectures on first aid and care of military equipment.

GETS EXECUTION STAY

YOUNGSTOWN, O., May 2.—Emil Rosovitz, holdup killer scheduled to die in Ohio penitentiary tomorrow night, today won a 10-day stay of execution from the Seventh District Court of Appeals.

A new execution date of May 12 was set to allow Rosovitz's attorneys to carry his case to the Ohio supreme court. The court of appeals refused him a new trial.

Rosovitz was convicted for the killing of John V. Donnelly in the holdup of a West Side club last year.

CAT ADOPTS COYOTE PUPS

(International News Service)

REDMOND, Ore., May 2.—There's a mama-cat in Redmond who will soon get the surprise of her life when her "kittens" begin to grow up. Filled with a thwarted maternal instinct after her kittens were drowned the cat recently adopted three coyote pups brought in from the range by a group of boys. The puppies are thriving on their Grade A rations.

Blood Plasma Is Being Stored

Will Be Stored In Huge Quantities
As National Defense Measure

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, May 2.—Medical science is doing its bit for national defense.

Dr. John Scudder of the Rockefeller Institute for Medical Research revealed recently that blood plasma is to be stored in great quantities in preparation for national defense.

Speaking at a convention here, he said:
"Collection of our national defense supply of plasma has been started in New York under the supervision of the American Red Cross.
The program will expand to other American cities. The navy is being supplied first, and will probably take a pint of blood from 100,000 donors."

The blood plasma from 10 or 12 donors can be pooled thus eliminating the necessity of typing, the doctor explained.
Shipping of blood plasma to England was discontinued in January because of a supply of blood has been built up.

WEDDED 70 YEARS

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, May 2.—Seventy years of married life without a quarrel!
That's the proud boast of David

Reeder, 91, and his wife, Elizabeth, 87, who have been married for the ordinary allotted span of life—three score years and 10.

But, says Reeder, he doesn't know how much longer things will go like that.

"We're getting younger every day, so I don't know how long it'll be before we have a light. My wife's getting spunky lately."

FIND ORANGE JUICE WILL DETERIORATE

(International News Service)
STATE COLLEGE, Pa., May 2.—

Orange juice allowed to stand for three or four hours at room temperature loses about half of its vitamin C content, according to Miss Ina Padgett, associate professor of home economics at the Pennsylvania State College.

"If you must let it stand," she warned, "keep it tightly covered in the refrigerator."

In addition, orange juice that is strained through a metal strainer also loses half of its vitamin C content, she added, "so that if you strain it through metal and also let it stand, it has practically no vitamin C value."

AROUND CITY HALL

There is some talk in city hall circles of replacing locks on parking meters. Not many meters have been robbed recently. Several weeks ago there did exist an epidemic of robbery and vandalism. Some arrests were made and fines imposed. It may come to pass that the city will buy new locks and save money.

Councilman David O. Davies is hot beneath his collar. He wants an ordinance with teeth. He is much put out because workers cleaned vacant lots a year ago and some of those same lots have been made a 1941 dumping ground. A watch for the can-throwers may help. Under sanitary laws it is likely that the city officials can find a way to stop people from deprecating other's property.

There are some structures here which are fire hazards. To get them out of existence requires red tape. It some times takes years to unravel red tape. Some vacant properties are actually dangerous. D. O. Davies, safety head, would like a law under which the owner of a property, or the city, would eliminate it from the hazard, unsanitary class, within 30 days.

It is not known when the new garbage truck will be placed in service. The body is of a different type than now used, and one which will help to expedite the removal of garbage without much lifting by employees, was bought some days ago and the cab and chassis was bought yesterday. The garbage will be enclosed. A new one-half ton truck likely will be bought Monday for the department of parks.

Some police who have been working all day turn now must take their turns on the 4 p. m.-midnight and midnight-8 a. m. turns. Only two will not be required to do this. They are Patrolmen Hillers and Reynolds.

Mrs. John Downey, Sharon, complained to council yesterday her auto parked in Neshannock boulevard, was splashed with oil by a street oiler. He will be asked to pay for cleaning the car.

BRIGHTEN "BLACK MARIA"
(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA—Hereafter ride in a "Black Maria" is going to be as cozy and comfortable as a spin in a taxi... in Philadelphia, at least.

Abandoning the conspicuous and uncomfortable patrol wagon, Philadelphia police have substituted ordinary sedans to pick up drunks, disorderly persons and other malefactors.

They've even gone a step farther. For special occasions, such as breaking up parties, the cops have a brand new "emergency patrol" that looks much like a station wagon.

A handsome house plant can be grown from the avocado seed. It must be suspended in water so that only part of it is immersed. The plant has large, bright green leaves.

Secretary Hull Makes Reply To British Reports

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, May 2.—London reports that the British ministry of economic warfare is dissatisfied with the extent to which the United States is participating in the economic blockade of the axis, today brought a sharp report from Secretary of State Cordell Hull.

He said that if such was the case he assumed the British government would take up with this government any such matters.

Hull added that he further assumed the British government would communicate to the United States a statement of fact on any such questions it might have in mind.

He appeared somewhat irked at the nature of the London reports, which indicated that the ministry of economic warfare was concerned over the fact that certain firms in the United States, ostensibly American, were actually controlled by German interests and were aiding the axis powers by building up dollar balances for Germany and Italy in this country.

Nickel-Bearing Steel Subject To New Control Rule

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, May 2.—Effecting nearly every heavy industry the OPM today tightened its control over nickel-bearing steel, used in making crank shafts and bearings for nearly all types of motors for airplane trucks and tanks in the national defense program.

Director of Priorities E. R. Stettinius, Jr. ordered all purchasers of nickel-bearing steel to make a report showing their inventories as of April 30. Unless such reports are made, Stettinius warned, all deliveries will be withheld after May 15. This forecast a rigid rationing of the vital national defense materials.

The action of Stettinius followed his order yesterday placing 16 vital defense metals under a new and drastic system of inventory control.

Report Death Of Ellwood Man

(International News Service)
SELINGROVE, Pa., May 2.—The death of Paul Pike, 29, of Ellwood City, Lawrence county, an inmate at the Selingrove colony for epileptics, today was described as suicide by Snyder County Coroner Dr. Charles W. Straub.

Pike, who was transferred October 27, 1931, from the Torrance state hospital, Westmoreland county, to the Selingrove institution, was said to have tied a bedsheet to his bedroom window and then slipped off the bed to the floor.

TO SHOW FILMS TOMORROW
A repeat showing of new Holy Land motion pictures in City Rescue Mission will come Saturday night at 8. Rev. Carl R. Harwood will speak at regular services tonight.

Fine promises of help persuaded the Yugoslavs to stand fast. Now if they are butchered for want of weapons, we'll make no more friends.

Substitute For Tin Is Discovered

Other Metals Will Replace Tin In Ceramic Industry, Expert States

(International News Service)
STATE COLLEGE, Pa., May 2.—If the war causes a shortage of tin, certain other minerals can be substituted in the ceramic industry, thus conserving our supply for use in national defense, according to Dr. Norbert J. Kreidl, assistant professor of glass technology at the Pennsylvania State college.

"Zircon and monazite are not so rare as people think," Dr. Kreidl said. They are coming on the market in increasing quantities, principally from the southern states.
One of the most important uses of these minerals in ceramics is to produce white, non-transparent porcelain enamelled ware, he pointed out. They therefore replace tin oxides, which in the past have been one of the chief agents to make porcelain enamel white.

Johnson Bronze Bowlers Dine

Senators, League Winners, Receive Beautiful Large Plaque

TEAM MEMBERS RECEIVE FOBS

Johnson Bronze company's Duck-pin league held their annual banquet last night in the Loyal Order of Moose, No. 51 dining-hall and festive spirit reigned high. In fact, it was one of the most pleasant affairs of its kind. Hal Faella, president of the league, was toastmaster and the Senators, league champions, were honored.

P. J. Flaherty, president of the company presented to the Senators a beautiful plaque of a bowler to Captain Frank Ross. The presentation was made by Preston Flaherty who in behalf of his father, "P. J.", as he affectionately is known gave each of the winning team members a beautiful watch fob.

Members of the winning team are Pete Quinn, Roger Pezone, Frank Miranda, Ray Campolo, Gregory Paronci, Joseph Ross and Ernest Kwiat. Unfortunately the latter was ill and was unable to be present. Captain Ross and members of the league champions made appropriate response for the gifts.

Pat Kearns who is in charge of the McCoy alleys where the league bowls presented a magician's act plus witicism relative to the bowling of the various team members.

Others who delivered brief talks were Harry Davis, Ed Davenport and Ed. Fritz, Sports Editor of The News.

(League statistics will be published in Saturday's News.)

Both have been clamoring for the affection of fandom. Some believe that Leasure is a better puncher but not so clever as Baxter. It ought to turn out to be one of the most exciting fights in some months. Both boys will immediately go into training.

It has been done before—it's an annual habit, in fact—and there's no harm in setting down some of the opinions heard around town, so here they are, the various "lowdowns" of the experts and otherwise as broadcast in and about Louisville as the advance band of derby-goers began marking time until the big race.

Eleven Horses May Go To Pole In Derby Classic

Thumbnail Sketches Of Derby Horses Given By International News Writer

GREAT RACE IS NOW IN PROSPECT

By CLYDE L. REECE (International News Service Writer) LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 2.—Throwing care to the winds, the usual batch of forecasters clustered in the blue grass today got down to the serious business of "picking the winner" in Saturday's Kentucky Derby.

It has been done before—it's an annual habit, in fact—and there's no harm in setting down some of the opinions heard around town, so here they are, the various "lowdowns" of the experts and otherwise as broadcast in and about Louisville as the advance band of derby-goers began marking time until the big race.

"Whirlaway will win because he is the fastest horse in the race if Jockey Eddie Arcaro can hold him in the pack around the turns to keep him from bearing out."

"Porter's Cap will win. He has taken most everything in sight, is from the stables which produced Seabiscuit, Michael and Kayak II, and burned up the track working out with four pounds more than his derby impost."

Our Boots Quiet

"Our Boots is a quiet one, but he's ready under the hand of the season's top jockey, Count McCreary, to get rowdy and win."

"Little Beans is the horse with a misleading name, for he's big as all nutcrackers, and with Don Meade handling him, he'll repay those who talk about him as a 'plater' and pay handsomely as victory."

"Blue Pair showed he was ready by beating Whirlaway in the derby trial."

"Dispose will dispose of all doubts about him, just as he did winning the Flamingo and Bahamas stakes."

"Robert Morris is dead fit, and didn't he win the $10,000 Excelsior Handicap at Jamaica?"

"Swain has been a being quiet and nothing much has been heard from him, but don't forget he had to have something to land fourth nationally among two-year-old winners last year. Also, he likes mud, and it hasn't rained on a Derby crowd for years. Play the averages."

"Market Wise is still in the market, just as he was in gliding over the better knowns to capture the important Wood Memorial."

"Staretor is an outsider, sure, but he's big and strong, and who says an outsider can't win? What about Gallahadion last year?"

"Valdin Paul has run third so many times he's bound to keep getting better. And there are always surprises."

That's the Derbytown chit-chat as of today. It's just the usual pre-race talk—every horse has his supporter—but maybe one of them is right.

PIRATES WALLOP PHILLIES 15 TO 2

Pirates Garner 18 Hits From Philly Heavers, Cardinals Continue Streak

By PAT ROBINSON (International News Service Writer) NEW YORK, May 2.—We don't know which impresses us most today: The grand playing of the swashbuckling Cardinals; the lionhearted pitching of Bucky Walters in the clutch; the phenomenal hitting of Cecil Travis; or the utter futility of the pitchers of both Philadelphia clubs.

The Cards again looked like money in the bank as they ran their victory string to six straight at the expense of the Giants 5 to 0.

That increased their lead over the Dodgers who were bowing in a beautiful 11-inning pitching duel to the Reds, 2 to 1.

Pirates Top Phils
The Cubs and Braves idled in the rain but there was no idling on the part of the Pirates who lambasted a flock of alleged Philly pitchers for 23 solid snatches and a soft 15-2 decision for Russ Bauers.

Over on the junior wheel the Senators set back the White Sox, 7 to 0. The Indians ran their winning streak to seven straight by pounding some of those Athletic throwers for 18 hits, breezing in, 13 to 8.

The Red Sox hopped on Tommy Bridges and his successors for 20 hits to beat Detroit, 13 to 9. And the Yanks, behind Bonham, slugged a quartet of Brownies for 17 hits and a 14-5 triumph.

DOLPH CAMILLI STILL CLICKING

BROOKLYN—Dolph Camilli, big stick man for the pennant hungry Brooklyn Dodgers, is again waving a mean club at the plate.

His power drives are accounting for a lot of Dodger runs, an honor he has hogged since joining the club. In the past three seasons he has never batted 300 but figures to reach that charmed circle this season.

To prevent sale of unofficial programs the University of Texas has copyrighted the numbers of its football team.

Mahoning Leads In Church League

New Castle Church Golf League Off To Successful Start At Castle Hills

The Mahoning churches golf team leads the New Castle Church Golf league today by a half-point as the result of the first night of play at the Castle Hills course on Thursday evening. Medalist for the evening was Emil Grommes, who had a very nice 36 card.

Other low scorers were: Izzy Solomon 37, J. Dudek 38, Jimmy Elder 38, Joe Fisher 38. Al McVickers of the Mahoning team won the Perleman golf ball for low net card.

The team standings the end of the first night—Mahoning 4.5, First Presbyterians 4, First Methodist 4, First Christians 4, First U. P. 3.5, Highland 2.5, St. Marys 2, Epworth 2, Trinity 2, Temple Israel 1.5.

ITHACA—Seventy-eight per cent of Cornell university co-eds voted in favor of restoring boxing to the intercollegiate sport program.

SPORTS WORLD RAMBLINGS

Jogging around the sports merry-go-round:

Jot down the name of Fred Rentz, Jr., for future reference. The 16-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Rentz, has the makings of one of the best revolver and rifle shots in the county. This is the opinion expressed by District Attorney John G. Lamore. The genial "D. A." was telling us that Fr-die has the accuracy of Annie Oakley. He's so good that he can literally put a hole through the buffalo stamped on a five-cent piece. . . .

Donald Young, a New Castle High chinchid, rates a few glittering stars for his amazing quarter-mile trek during the New Castle-Warren meet. Young split the tape first in 52.6 seconds, the fastest time ever posted by a "Hurricane" trackster in the aforementioned event. "Bill" Paradise's express-like coverage of the half mile journey, in two minutes and eight and 1-5 seconds, was another phenomenal performance.

Did you ever hear about an elderly gent named Jimmy Atkinson? At any rate, Jimmy deserves the spotlight. Far down along the line, the localite not only held the Pennsylvania trapshooting championship but was one, two, three with the best in the land. Now ripe for the fire side, slippers and pipe, Jimmy still participates in his favorite sport. Ever today, Atkinson shows the younger gentry a few tricks. . . .

While writing about notables of the outdoors, here's the spot to mention Nicholas R. Cassilo. The genial high school instructor is the last word in matters pertaining to the streams or woods. You learn this following a brief discussion with Nick. In addition to spending quite a lot of his leisure time in the outdoors, Cassilo is quite a writer. His newly, well written yarns have hit the top outdoor mags in the business.

A few diamond pot-shots—There's one thing the cellar-dwelling Pirates (they were last when we last looked) won't have to worry about. They can't sink any lower. . . . With Lindell optioned to Newark, one more pitcher will feel the New York Yankees' hatchet. . . . Washington was the first club to use the head-guards in the American League that is, in wholesale lot. The Nats donned the pieces against the Yankees. They needed them that day—to protect themselves against a fusillade of hits from all angles.

Dodgers players who lace homers in Ebels Field are rewarded. A pair of new shoes for every round-tripper. The way Dolph Camilli is rapping four baggers he'll have enough to open a shoe store by the end of the season. . . . "Bucky" Walters got fat at the expense of the Brooklynites last year. The Cincy Redleg trounced the Dodgers six times. . . . Fitzsimmons' pet teams were the Phils and Pirates. Fred topped the two teams six times each. . . .
